THE INAUGURATION

THE MILITARY AND CIVIC PROCESSION—IMPOSING CEREMONIES—A BITTER COLD BUT A GREAT CITY CROWD—THE DAY AND THE CROWD

WASHINGTON March 4 —The morning is very clear but is bitter cold Many thousands on their way from the streets remote from the route of the inaugural procession, found it impossible to keep themselves comfortable This, however, did not have any effect in lessening the universal anxiety to be ready on the ground Early in the day the military and civic organizations from their different headquarters began assembling on Pennsylvania avenue west of the Executive Mansion and by 10 30 A M were nearly all in position The avenue by this time was alive with persons to witness the military portion of the ceremonial Many visitors wended their way to the Executive Mansion, to see it start Many visited the White House before the time of the parade but it was closed and no persons were admitted The clerk and military attaches of the President were at the capitol, and matters were exceedingly quiet at the Executive Mansion

THE PROCESSION—THE PRESIDENT

Prompt to time decided upon by General Barry, Grand Marshal, for moving the procession, the troops were in readiness and began the line of march They were preceded by a platoon of mounted police followed by the Second United States Artillery Band with the Grand Marshal and his assistants and Military Committee on Organization The President occupied an open carriage, accompanied by Senators Cragin, Logan and Bayard He joined the procession soon after starting taking position in the third division of the parade The carriage in which he sat was drawn by four closely clipped, mouse colored horses His appearance was the signal of hearty cheering waving of handkerchiefs and other demonstrations of applause, as he rode along

THE MILITARY DISPLAY.

Immediately preceding his carriage was his escort, the Philadelphia city cavalry, a division under command of Colonel Attdenreid, and the additional military part of it consisted of the President s Mounted Guard and officers of the city government, Mounted Guard the Boston Lancers The first and second divisions of the procession consisted of military organizations cadets from West Point, midshipmen at Annapolis United States Artillery on foot, a battalion of United States marines, the old guard of New York, Company A, St Louis National Guard, several volunteer organizations of Washington The first division consisting of United States troops was commanded by General Upton Among the organizations in the fourth division were some from Philadelphia, Albany Baltimore Duquesne and Pittsburgh There were five bands of music In the fifth division, were the second division of the Fifth New York, the Third New Jersey, and the Fifth Maryland regiments

THE CIVIC DISPLAY

The sixth division consisted of colored troops who presented a creditable appearance The remaining part of the procession was divided into six divisions There were the Marshals and members of the Washington Fire Department This division includes officers of the general and local governments, political clubs from different States, the Washington and Baltimore Scheutzen Vereins A large mounted squad of police preceded the procession

THE CROWD

The crowd is encroaching on the line of march and altogether the civic and military organizations number at least 12,000 They made an imposing appearance Nearly every organization in the march was accompanied by an effective band, and the route was enlivened by excellent music for a space of nearly two miles in length, causing the spectators for the time to forget the intensely nipping atmosphere and clouds of dust driven by the wind against their faces As the procession turned into the avenue from Fifteenth street crowds of spectators crowded along the sidewalk from the intersecting streets into the great thoroughfare which was alive with at least 50,000 struggling people Notwithstanding the excitement they preserved excellent order As the various organizations drew near the Capitol the crowd thickened until the entire vicinity of the Capitol grounds were filled The appearance of the military organizations was highly extolled The civic organizations above named made a good display though their numbers were considerably diminished by the cold

WAR VETERANS—DECORATIONS, ETC

Prominent in the procession was an omnibus containing a numbers of veterans of the Mexican war, following the procession bearing the tattered flags of the great battles of the country This part of the procession was continually cheered The buildings in Pennsylvania avenue are decorated in a manner surpassing former occasions The headquarters of the various clubs are elaborately adorned Owing to the cold weather the stands on the line of march were abandoned During the continuance of the Inaugural ceremonies the great mass of the spectators were well behaved and orderly, but owing to the cold weather they did not give vent to their feelings in loud cheering, but the evidence of approbation and interest seemed everywhere apparent The Treasury was filled with officials employed therein and others to whom tickets of admission had been issued

AT THE SENATE CHAMBER

While the procession had been forming and moving to the Capitol immense crowds had congregated at the Senate Chamber The floor of the Senate was occupied largely by invited guests, comprising distinguished military and civil officials The Diplomatic Corps were present in a body The Supreme Court Judges entered, headed by Chief Justice Chase After them came the President, preceded by the Committees of Arrangements The members of the House came next Senator Sumner then entered looking unexpectedly well When the hour of 12 had arrived, and after the organization, the new Senate and attendant bodies went to the east portico of the Capitol

AT THE CAPITOL PORTICO

The procession duly formed in the manner usual on such occasions A platform had been erected in front of the portico, where the Vice President and other personages took the seats provided for them The crowds below were surging to and fro but preserved order Near the President were the members of his family Cheers and music greeted him on his appearance The President elect and the Chief Justice arose simultaneously, when the latter administered the Presidential oath Cheers and cannonading followed When order was partially restored, he, the President, arose and proceeded to read his inaugural address His voice was not audible, except to persons on the platform The delivery did not occupy ten minutes, which being concluded, congratulations followed from friends, and President Grant soon after left in his carriage for the White House escorted by the procession, which had meanwhile reformed and took up the line of march The crowds began to disperse, the inaugural ceremonies were over

BRILLIANT APPEARANCE OF PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE

Pennsylvania avenue to night presents a scene of animation and brilliancy not known here for several years Under the brilliancy of Drummond lights placed at frequent intervals along the avenue the surrounding buildings, and particularly the Capitol and Treasury were shown most attractively in a flood of light The large glass buildings of the Botanical Gardens were most magnificently illuminated the reflection from which enlightened the surrounding objects most pleasantly The illumination is not very general owing to the severe weather and high wind, but a number of large and conspicuous buildings on the most prominent streets are well lighted up with hundreds of gas jets of all colors and of great brilliancy The fire works were magnificent, particularly at the Treasury Department, where an immense throng collected to witness their display

THE INAUGURATION BALL

The Inauguration ball to night was largely attended Dancing was interrupted at 11 40 by the entrance of President Grant and Vice President Wilson Mrs Grant entered on the arm of Mr Kennedy, member of the Citizens Executive Committee of Arrangements Next followed the Secretary of State and other members of the Cabinet with the ladies of their respective households and a number of the members of the diplomatic corps, headed by Sir Edward Thornton Generals Sherman and Sheridan and other officers of the army, together with many gentlemen of high official station, accompanied by ladies, formed a portion of the Presidential party, who passed down the room to the platform, the bands meanwhile playing "Hail to the Chief" They took their seats on the platform especially constructed for the Presidential party, the platform bearing gas jets representing the names of Grant and Wilson There being a cessation in dancing, many ladies and gentlemen were presented to the President and Vice President

Among the noticeable personages at the ball was the Minister from Japan, escorting a Chinese lady in the full dress of her country The Cadets of West Point and the Naval Academy all attended the ball as invited guests The attendance of the army and navy officers was large Many Senators and Members of Congress were present including Speaker Blaine, nearly all accompanied by ladies The supper was on a magnificent scale and the ball is regarded as a success

THE PRESIDENT S INAUGURAL

HIS VIEWS ON SAN DOMINGO, CIVIL SERVICE, THE INDIANS AND OTHER QUESTIONS—HIS ACKNOWLEDGMENTS TO THE PEOPLE—HIS SLANDERERS REBUKED

WASHINGTON March 4th

FELLOW CITIZENS Under Providence I have been chosen a second time to act as Executive over this great nation It has been my endeavor in the past to maintain all the laws, and so far as lay in my power to act for the best interests of the whole people My best efforts will be given in the same direction in the future, aided I trust, by my past experience in office When my first term of the office of Chief Executive began, the country had not recovered from the effects of a great international revolution, and three of the former States of the Union had not been restored to their Federal relations It seemed to me wise that no new questions should be raised, as that condition of affairs existed, therefore the last four years, so far as I could, went to restore harmony, public credit, commerce and all the arts of peace and progress It is my firm conviction that the civilized world is tending toward republicanism—government by the people, through their chosen representatives, and our own great republic is destined to be the guiding star to all others Under our republic we support an army less than that of any European power of any standing and a navy less than that of at least five of them There could be no extension of territory on this continent which would call for an increase of this force, but rather such extension enables us to diminish it The territory of the Government changes with the general progress Now that the telegraph is made available for communicating thought together with the rapid transit by steam, all parts of the continent are made contiguous for all purposes of government, and communication between the extreme limits of the country is made easier than it was throughout the old thirteen States at the beginning of our national existence

The effects of the late civil strife have been to free the slave and make a citizen of him, yet he is not possessed of the civil rights which citizenship should carry with it. This is wrong and should be corrected, and to this correction I stand committed so far as Executive influence can avail Social equality is not a subject to be legislated upon, nor shall I ask that anything be done to advance the social status of the colored man, except to give him a fair chance to develop what there is good in him Give him access to schools and when he travels let him feel assured that his conduct will regulate the treatment he will receive The States lately at war with the General Government are now happily rehabilitated, and no Executive control is exercised in any one of them that would not be exercised in any other State under like circumstances

On the first year of the past administration, the proposition came up for the admission of San Domingo as a Territory of the Union. It was not a question of my seeking, but was a proposition from the people of San Domingo and which I entertained I believe now, as I did then, that it was for the best interests of this country, for the people of San Domingo and all concerned, that the proposition should be received favorably. It was, however, regarded constitutionally, and therefore the subject was never brought up again by me In the future, while I hold my present office, the subject of acquisition of territory must have the support of the people before I will recommend any proposition looking to any such acquisition I say now here, however, that I do not share in the apprehension felt by many as to the danger of the government becoming weakened and destroyed by reason of the extension of territory Commerce, education and rapid transit of thought and matter by telegraph and steam, have changed this belief; I rather believe that our Great Maker is preparing the world in His own good time for one great nation, speaking one language—when armies and navies will be no longer required My efforts in the future will be directed to the restoration of good feeling between the different sections of our common country to the restoration of our currency to a fixed value as compared with the world's standard of values of gold and if possible to par with it to the construction of cheap routes of transit throughout the land, to the end that the products of all sections may find a market and a living remuneration to the producer, to the maintenance of friendly relations with all our neighbors and with distant nations, to the establishment of our commerce and share in the carrying trade upon the ocean, to the encouragement of such manufacturing industries as can be economically pursued in this country, to the end that the exports of home products and industries may pay for our imports—the only sure method of returning to a humane course to bring the aborigines of the country under the benign influences of education and civilization

THE INDIANS

It is either this or war of extermination Wars of extermination engaged in by a people pursuing commerce and industrial pursuits, are expensive even against the weakest people, and are demoralizing and wicked Our superiority of strength and advantages of civilization should make us lenient toward the Indians The wrong already inflicted upon them should be taken into account and the balance placed to their credit The moral view of the question should be considered and the question asked cannot the Indian be made a useful and productive member of society by proper teaching and treatment? When the effort is made in good faith we will stand before the civilized nations of the earth and in our own consciousness as having done our duty All these things are not to be accomplished by one individual, but they will receive my support and such recommendation to Congress as will in my judgment, best serve to carry them into effect, and beg your support and encouragement

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM

It has been, and is, my earnest desire to correct the abuses that have grown up in the civil service of the country To secure this reformation, rules, regulations and methods of appointment and promotion were established and have been tried My efforts for such reformation shall be continued to the best of my judgment

ACKNOWLEDGMENT TO THE PEOPLE

The spirit of the rules adopted will be maintained I acknowledge before this assemblage, representing as it does every section of our country, the obligation I am under to my countrymen for the great honor they have conferred upon me by returning me to the highest office in the land, and the further obligation resting on me to render them the best services within my power This I promise, looking forward with the greatest anxiety to the day when I shall be released from the responsibilities that at times are almost overwhelming and from which I have scarcely had a respite since the eventful firing upon Fort Sumter in April 1861 to the present day My services were then tendered and accepted Under the first call for troops growing out of that event I did not ask for place or position, and was entirely without influence, or the acquaintance of persons of influence, but was resolved to perform my part in a struggle threatening the very existence of the nation I performed a conscious duty without asking promotion or command, and without revengeful feeling towards any section or any individual Notwithstanding this, throughout the war, and from my candidacy for the present office in 1868 to the close of the last Presidential campaign, I have been the subject of abuse and slander, scarcely ever equaled in political history, which to day I feel that I can afford to disregard in view of your verdict, which I gratefully accept as my vindication

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional

WASHINGTON March 7 —The Senate re elected Rev Mr Newman as Chaplain

Cooper offered a resolution requesting the President to furnish the Senate with the correspondence between the Attorney General of the United States and certain parties in Alabama in relation to the fusion of the two bodies claiming to be the Legislature of the State

Conkling objected to immediate action on the resolution and it went over

The further consideration of the admission of Spencer was lost

Bayard moved that the credentials of Spencer and Sykes be referred to a select committee

Carpenter entered a motion to reconsider the appointment of Dr Newman as Chaplain of the Senate

Bayard s motion was lost yeas 20 nays 38

The question being then upon administering the oath to Spencer Thurman moved to lay it on the table until the regular committees were appointed

Moran will be made to refer his credentials to the committee on Privileges and Elections

The Senate without division voted to admit Spencer and he was sworn in

West presented the credentials of McMillen claiming to be Senator elect from Louisiana elected by the McEnery Legislature Credentials read West then moved they lie on the table and be printed which was agreed to

Conkling moved to go into Executive session and declined Moran s request, who asked him to yield for him to make a motion in the Caldwell case

The Senate went into Executive session, and soon after adjourned till Monday

Caldwell will Escape

CHICAGO March 8 —A Washington special says there is no probability that any action will be taken in the Caldwell case at this session of the Senate. Senators complain that they have not been able to examine the voluminous testimony taken by the Committee and without doing so they are not prepared to vote They allege that they want to take the testimony home and read during the vacation Of course this means that nothing will be done with Caldwell

A Hungry Congress

Sergeant-at Arms Ordway waited upon Comptroller Taylor of the Treasury Department to get a warrant for $1 000,000 as impatient and importuning Congressmen are demanding their back pay The Comptroller informed Ordway he did not see how he could pay the money, as the section under which this payment was claimed was so clumsily worded as to be liable to several constructions besides, there were other insuperable objections the section did not specify the amount to be paid, and it made no appropriation for this specific purpose Many Members of Congress, hearing this decision, and who have been waiting for their $5,000, will leave for home to night

A Mystery of the Sea

NEW YORK, March 8 —A story comes from Gibraltor to the effect that on the 13th of December last the Del Gratia came upon the Mary Celeste, an American brigantine She was first seen by the Del Gratia in latitude 38° north longitude 17° west, and had been abandoned by her crew about three weeks previously, as was shown by her log Since that time she has drifted without a living being on board The cause of abandonment is a complete mystery, as the brigantine was sound in every particular There were found on her effects of considerable value which, had she been boarded by pirates, would undoubtedly have been taken The articles remaining seem to show the presence of a lady and children on the ship One thing found may furnish a clue to the mystery It is a sheathed sword the blade of which looks as if it had been stained with blood and washed There were marks of blood on the top gallant sails also The bows of the vessel had been cut off, as if intentionally, with some sharp instrument Conjectures with regard to the true cause of abandonment are likely to be futile, but the probable hypothesis is that for some reason the crew revolted and took to flight, carrying away with them nothing which might lead to their arrest and conviction

The Epidemic of Insanity.

SALISBURY (Md) March 8 —On Friday George Hall aged 18 shot and killed Amelia Skikley aged 14 while returning from school Hall courted Amelia, and had written a letter which was unanswered, because, as she stated she had no time Both parties belong to respectable families. Hall is not yet apprehended

Relating to Murderers

NEW YORK, March 8 —In the Scannell case the jury this morning, came into court and asked for instructions as to what constituted insanity, and retired for further deliberation Shortly after they again entered, and announced their utter inability to agree, even if locked up for a fortnight The Judge insisted on keeping them locked up They again retired

Weather stormy Heavy southeast gales have been blowing for the last ten days

FROM THE MODOCS.

Latest by Mail.

By mail we have the following from the seat of war, furnished to the Yreka Journal by the reporter of that paper who had the "honor" of shaking hands with Capt Jack

Capt Jack sent word that he wanted to see us, and by 8 P M of the 1st, we were seated around the council fire with 43 warriors present In the evening interview Mr. Steele said he had been sent by the Peace Commission to talk with Capt Jack. Jack said I am very sick, but will talk a little to night, and more to-morrow Steele then further explained his mission, stating that Judge Rosborough had come to Dorris' Ranch, but was too sick to come to the lava bed. Jack was glad to see Steele and the reporters also, who came to take down the talk. Mr Steele then proposed Canby's offer to take them to a warmer climate, when Jack said he wanted time to think it over, may be two weeks

After the talk with Jack, Steele had a talk with Scoonchin, who also desired peace Steele wanted him and Scarfaced Charley and eight or ten others, who understood English, to go with him to Fairchild's, and have a talk with Gen Canby and the Commissioners. Scoonchin did not want to talk to Meacham saying he talked with a forked tongue, and did not accept the invitation of Steele, and said he did not know how to talk, and had no more to say All soon retired and the cave was deserted save by the sick chief, a wounded warrior and their wives

In the morning Jack was prepared for a long talk He blamed Ivan Applegate for all the trouble, and thought the first fight would be all of it He told Klamath Lake John to tell the soldiers that he did not want to fight, and that John did not tell them as he promised him that he would I did not shoot first Applegate and Charley Monroe shot first I did not shoot at all I don't want to talk to Ivan Appegate (Jack supposing he was on the Peace Commission). I want to live on the road where I could see people pass, and talk with them as with brothers I want peace and a treaty that will require no more soldiers to be called out for any lies in the treaty He went to the Reservation and was abused by the Klamaths, and also starved, so that he was obliged to leave. My people made rails and the Klamaths stole them They would not allow us to get a good drink of water I had to drink from a mudpuddle. I thought I would go to Yainax, but had no blankets or clothes, and then I thought Applegate was there, and it would be the same thing over. The Snake Indians also told me they had nothing to eat at Yainax. Jack wants the past all wiped out, and says the Oregon volunteers had killed as many cattle as the Indians had, and that they found many shot which they did not eat for fear they had been poisoned, and was not certain whether the Klamaths had killed cattle or not.

Scoonchin John was then asked if he would talk, and after some hesitation it was intimated that he would talk. Scoonchin said he was one of the chiefs, and when he had a talk, he wanted to look out and see the whole country What I say these men will agree to Like Capt Jack, he denied ever having troubled the white people, and did not want to. My men did not want to kill white men unless they were attacked, and then they would defend themselves He desired Steele to talk to Meacham for him, and express his desire for peace and good will He complained of the reservation, and said Link River Jack did not want them to live on their land He said they had to kill four horses on the reservation to keep from starving, and that the agents did not keep their promises, which was the cause of their leaving.

Steele then commenced his talk He referred to their calling to see him in Yreka, and made a lengthy speech, which met with responses from the Indians He explained that the Commissioner Applegate was not the one they supposed, being Jesse and not Ivan He wanted some of the Modocs to go down and see Gen Canby and Judge Rosborough, who were both sick, and would send a wagon for Capt Jack, if he was able to go, or if not, he desired some of his best men to go, those who understood English He did not want Jack to go, as he was too sick, but wanted Scoonchin and 10 or 12 others to go They could take their guns, but would rather they should go unarmed. The Commissioners want them to go to a warmer country and get good homes, because they know the Rogue River Indians and bad white men might kill some of them if they remain They shall each have a little piece of land and keep it They can own their own horses and sheep They can own their own houses, and when they get rich, pay taxes and vote like white men Wanted them to stay there until he could hear from the Great Chief at Washington Steele then explained if this treaty for removal was effected, they would see great buildings, great cities, railroads and other wonders built by white men.

Capt Jack in his last speech before Steele left, said he was in the house when the soldiers came, and said one boy was running, and falling down, his gun went off. He did not shoot at soldiers, but they shot at him They fired six shots before my people fired He blamed the soldiers for coming in the night to talk, believing there was mischief intended and no talk

E. Steele, Fairchild, and the press reporters, then returned toward Fairchild's, followed by Mary, Jack's sister, Bogus Charley, Hooka Jim, Long Jim, Boston, Shacknasty Jim, Duffy, William, and Little or Curly Headed Jack, who all came down to talk with Gen. Canby and the Commissioners. The talk would probably take place next day

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 9

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Treasury will Pungle.

WASHINGTON, March 8 —There is an erroneous impression regarding the action of the first Controller of the Treasury relative to the back pay of members of Congress The fact is he deferred his decision until he had considered the entire appropriation This has now been done and the Controller states that the payments in question will be made, there being no lawful objection

The Louisiana Muddle

It is very uncertain whether the Senate will revive the Louisiana question during the special session by considering the claims of Pinchback and McMillen The latter has no chance of getting a seat and the contest is really between Pinchback and a new Senatorial election. Notwithstanding what Morton and others think if the Senate does nothing the Louisiana case will speedily settle itself The result of discussion if it be opened is doubtful.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING MARCH 10 1873

The Welsh Colliery Strike

Some idea of the magnitude of the recent colliery strike in Wales may be gathered from considering the number of men directly affected by it There are employed in that region 50 000 iron workers 10 000 iron colliers and a little over 10,000 steam colliers or persons engaged in mining coal for the steamers The strike of last summer was confined to the last mentioned class who were off for three months They were finally set to work at the same rate of pay that the iron colliers received and have been getting the same wages ever since The January strike was by the iron colliers They are a very small minority of this working population but when they are off the 50 000 iron workers are forced into idleness Thus 10 000 men control the employment of 60,000

The co operative plan is being tried in the Welsh mines as a means of preventing these strikes This secures to the working men the right to inspect the books of the employers and to possess themselves of such information in regard to the actual ratio between cost of production and proceeds of sale as they may desire in order to a fair adjustment of profits on labor and capital In the recent strike the employers claimed that the competition in the iron trade was so sharp that the wages paid by them were higher than they could pay and save themselves They offered to subject their figures to the scrutiny of the strikers, but the latter refused to consider the proposal, insisting upon compliance with their demand for an advance of ten per cent

This strike says the Springfield Republican brings into strong light the degradation of the Welsh miners They do not show themselves fit to enjoy the advantages they seek to gain by the strike M Monclans one of the iron masters, states that they do not begin the week's work till Wednesday The miner used to work six days for 30 shillings Now he earns 30 shillings in four days and devotes the other two to drunkenness and loafing The actual figures show this One colliery which used to turn out an average of 800 tons of coal a day, now yields only 238 on Monday 460 on Tuesday, 720 on Wednesday, 1 650 on Thursday and Friday together

These statements are supported by others who have given attention to the condition of the miners and, as a consequence of their drunken and degraded habits, their intelligence is said to be scarcely above that of the inferior animals The simplest questions put to them are answered only by a stolid monosyllable, or a meaningless stare Little will it avail this class to have the right to inspect the books, and examine into the affairs of the masters They will, at last, be dependent on some of their own overseers for the investigations they are to make It is easy to see when and how such an examination must end, unless the employees are disposed to deal fairly with them, in which case there would be no necessity for examining accounts When the laborer learns that the road to prosperity lies through faithful service, sobriety and economy rather than through violence, he will learn the lesson that will bring fair and just treatment from his employer and plenty and happiness to himself and his wife and children

Speaking of the charge against Pomeroy of attempting to bribe his way into the United States Senate from Kansas, the Washington Star says that Yorke, the accusing witness, 'is, by his own admission, a man quite ready to listen to a proposition of bribery He is not a bit too good, quite evidently, to bargain with the other side for the defeat of Pomeroy ' There is little room to doubt, so far as the facts have yet been made known, that Pomeroy was guilty of bribery The explanation which he is reported to have offered is entirely too transparent to deceive an intelligent mind But the Star manifestly speaks truly when it says that Yorke has, by his own confession, shown that he is none too good to accept a bribe We do not suppose that any intelligent Legislature would believe the unsupported oath of any man who would consent to act the part that Yorke says he acted which was to go to Pomeroy and propose to sell his vote to him, receiving the bribe agreed upon, in order to defeat him and elect his antagonist There is evidently truth in the statement made by a Kansas paper, that the expose made by Yorke would have had no effect, had not Pomeroy's previous lobbying been of such character that the minds of the members were already prepared to believe the worst that might be said of him Doubtless Yorke received from the other side more than the $8,000 which Pomeroy gave him You don't find his sort of people throwing away such an opportunity to make 'a piece' as that was

Most of the leading papers of Illinois are filled with complaints that the railway monopolies are eating out the substance of the country The rich are becoming richer and the poor poorer, because of the disadvantages under which labor is placed If these complaints can be truthfully made in Illinois, what shall we say of Oregon? Here the rates of transportation are far more oppressive than there But for the fact that, owing to the superiority of our climate for wheat growing, we get much more grain in return for a given amount of labor, it would be utterly impossible for our farmers to pay the exactions of the railway monopoly. Put up the tariff in Illinois to Oregon rates, and the farmers would have to suspend operations

In the House, March 1st, Mr Banks, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a resolution tendering, in the name and behalf of the American people congratulations to the people of Spain for their recent efforts to consolidate the principles of universal liberty with a republican form of government and requesting the President to transmit the resolution to the American Minister at Madrid with instructions to present it to the Spanish Government The resolution passed without a division

When the bill for the increase of salaries was on its passage in the House, Speaker Blaine objected to the clause increasing his salary, and asked unanimous consent to amend by making it read 'hereafter the Speaker shall receive $10,000 Mr Randall objected but Mr Speaker appealing to him to withdraw the objection, he did so and the bill was amended

Treasurer Spinner has been reimbursed to the amount of $61 171 to cover losses by embezzlement in his office Dishonest employees rendered the legislation necessary

By an act of the Forty second Congress the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company has authorized to issue currency instead of coin bonds

We learn that the Linn county farmers meeting held at Albany last Saturday was attended by great numbers from all parts of the county and that a great deal of enthusiasm in the movement was manifested by those present The farmers throughout the State seem to be thoroughly aroused and though many schemes that are impracticable and inexpedient are broached yet out of the agitation now going on truth will be evolved and good results will doubtless flow Believing that the aggregate of the amount ultimately paid for their wheat by the consumers which goes to pay middlemen and carriers is disproportionately large when compared with the net receipts of the farmers the latter have gone to work to see if something cannot be done to better their condition in this respect Hence the many farmers clubs which are being formed in various parts of our State It is fair to presume that from this effort will follow some effect tending at least to the partial accomplishment of the object sought

The present mode of getting Eastern mails is a very great inconvenience to the press as well as the public No paper mails are sent overland from San Francisco, but all such matter is allowed to accumulate in San Francisco from one steamer day till the next when it is sent up here in a mass Much of this matter is stale and old before it reaches us For instance the latest Eastern papers by the last steamer were those of the 17th of February Were the mails sent right along overland even on the long winter schedule we should now have Eastern papers of February 27th—ten days later than we have by steamer This change from land to sea was made during the early part of the winter to avoid the delays which have generally occurred at that season by reason of the snow fall in the mountains of Northern California The precaution was a very wise one but it would now greatly convenience the public if the mails were again sent overland

The Salem Mercury says that, 'on learning the items offered by the Peace Commission to the Modoc murderers, Governor Grover renewed his protest by telegraph to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington against the consummation of any treaty screening the murderers ' This is in accordance with the position first assumed by His Excellency that the Modocs being resident in the State of Oregon, are subject to its laws and further, that the General Government has no legal right to remove them from its jurisdiction until the State's claim upon them may be satisfied nor to interpose to shield them in any way from the penalty that attaches to their acts We trust that the Department at Washington will treat this authoritative expression with the consideration to which it is entitled

An indignant mother complains to the Directors of the California Deaf and Dumb Asylum that a boy who is neither deaf, dumb nor blind, has crept into that fold of charity with wolfish intent This mother says, 'he has been carrying on flirtations with her deaf and dumb girls—which I do not think proper ' The mother is eminently correct But then a boy, you know, who can carry on a successful flirtation under those disadvantages —can "chill penury repress his noble rage?" We think not. He is bound to be one of those "self-made men,' and his noble features will some day serve to paint one of Frank Leslie's pathetic tales.

The adoption of the postal telegraph in England has caused a marked increase in the publication of telegraphic news by the papers Formerly the English telegraphs sent news to only 114 towns In the year afterwards the Postoffice sent during the session of Parliament nearly 6 000 words of news daily, during the remainder of the year 4 000 daily The Postoffice in the year after ward sent, during the session of Parliament nearly 20,000 daily, and during the remainder of the year 15 000 daily The increase in private messages is even more marked

The church property in Rome confiscated by the Italian government may be summed up as follows Monasteries 126, having 2 375 inmates, and a gross income of $400,000 convents 92, with 2,183 nuns and a revenue of $300 000, other ecclesiastical corporations basilicas, collegiate churches, etc, have revenues amounting to $350,000 Besides these are a number of suburban institutions, which, with the city property, will net to the government when sold the snug little sum of two million dollars

On the 3d inst, Manager Butler appeared at the bar of the United States Senate and impeached Mark W Delahay District Judge of the United States Court for the District of Kansas, in the name of the House of Representatives and of the people of the United States for high crimes and misdemeanors The Manager further acquainted the Senate by order of the House, that the House will in due time furnish particulars of the articles against the said Delahay, and make good the same

A recent Washington dispatch says that in the Senate on the 3d, Edmunds, from the committee of Conference on the Geneva award bill reported the inability of the committee to agree as to the class of losses to be paid and as to the war premiums They therefore recommended the investment of the money in five per cent registered bonds of the United States to be held to await the future action of Congress The report was concurred in

Speaking of the condition of the wheat market, the St Paul Press says The price in New York is satisfactory, and equal to the average value of grain for a number of years it is only the extravagant cost of freight against which the farmer protests and which keeps him poor

In consequence of the refusal of the House to grant the Senate's request for a committee of conference the Agricultural College bill, which elicited so much discussion during the last session of the Forty Second Congress lies dead on the table

In the Senate March 1st, Senator Corbett presented the credentials of Hon J H Mitchell his successor in the United States Senate

In the House, on the 3d inst, the Senate bill to establish the Custom House value of the English pound sterling at $4 866 passed

Misrepresentations Corrected

Among the numerous misrepresentations set afloat in regard to the Holly Plan of Water Works, one which has been repeated in Portland, is that the Works on that plan in Columbus, Ohio were a failure The following official refutation of this statement is therefore published in the interest of truth and fairness

OFFICE OF TRUSTEES OF WATER WORKS,
COLUMBUS O, Feb 7, 1873

T T Flagler Esq, Pres't Holly Man f g Co —Dear Sir Your favor of the 4th instant is at hand, stating that you noticed in the news column of a Chicago paper that the 'Holly Water Works at Columbus Ohio, after costing more than half a million, were a failure ' In reply I have to say that this is news to our people The Water Works are not a failure in any particular whatever either as regards water supply, machinery, fire hydrants, pipe and piping system, or anything else In fact, it is said we have the best Holly Water Works there are in the country We are pumping over one million gallons water daily The pumping service cost about $23 per day this includes the wages of three engineers three firemen, a helper, the cost of coal (which is about $10 per day) oil, etc The construction of the works, with 33 miles of pipe laid, with 200 fire hydrants and valves, has costs about $550 000

Our receipts for the last nine months, over running expenses were over $6 000 We are able to supply all demands for water, and our receipts will more than pay running expenses

Yours truly

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1873.

CITY.

A REMINISCENCE.—The San Francisco Alta of late date has the following reminiscence respecting the little propeller Geo S. Wright, which has been furnished that paper by a gentleman formerly of this city: "Last July a report was current in Portland that a new channel had broken through the Columbia bar, with deeper water than the old one. Mr Holladay requested his captains to examine into the matter, so the Geo S Wright was detailed for the service, Captain Ainsley being in command. Captain Bolles, of the Ajax, and Captain Hayes, of the California, were also on board. The Wright steamed away from Portland in good style, and was going down the river in fine style, when, a few miles above Astoria, her engine (a single one) became caught on the center, and could not be backed off! She was, therefore, towed into Astoria, and her crank had to be uncoupled and put up again before she could be made to work properly. Had she been a new boat, with everything keyed up tight, there would have been nothing wonderful about it, for heat caused by friction often causes such results. If a similar accident befel her in a heavy sea, her loss is not to be wondered at. She was a good sea boat, however, and her hull was a wonder of strength.

REFUSED TO ASSIST.—An intoxicated fellow created a disturbance yesterday evening by kicking over the blacking box of one of the street "shiners," and also threatening to administer similar treatment on the person of the aforesaid boot polisher. An officer interfered and arrested the drunken brawler. He refused to comply with the request of the officer and accompany him to jail. Being a powerful man, he proved one too many for the guardian of peace. Finding a lively resistance inevitable, the officer called on a bystander named McGuire to lend him assistance. McGuire did not come to time on that proposition with alacrity, and for want of help, the officer was compelled to relinquish his hold on the prisoner, who took to his heels and ran off. The officer then politely went for Mr. McGuire and escorted that accommodating gentleman to the jail. His case will be examined into this morning.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.—A team attached to a wagon loaded with wood, took fright on last Saturday and ran off. The driver, a man named Bean, was on the wagon, and did all in his power to arrest the speed of the horses; but, before his efforts could avail, the team ran against the side walk at the corner of Washington and Third streets. Bean was dashed headlong to the sidewalk and struck on his head. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and removed to the residence of his uncle, and his injuries examined by a physician. His injuries were pronounced severe, but not of a very dangerous character.

LOG CAUGHT.—Considerable delay was occasioned yesterday forenoon in the regular trips of the Stark street ferry boat, by a large fir tree which caught on the wire cable. The tree had been torn out, and the heavy roots caused the greater portion to be submerged. Floating down on the current the branches became entangled, and stopped the further progress of the ferry. After a great deal of prying the tree was dislodged without damage to either boat or cable.

STILL IN PROGRESS.—The work on the Upper Columbia for the improvement of the navigation of that stream, still progresses. Operations are in full blast at the three points where improvements are necessary—John Day Rapids, Umatilla Rapids, and Devil's Bend. The contract calls for the completion of the work by the first of next month; but the prospective rise in the river from the recent heavy rains threatens to materially impede the operations.

RESIGNED—APPOINTED.—Capt. F. H. West U. S. Assistant Engineer, has resigned his position and accepted a situation as General Superintendent of the locks and canal at Oregon City. Major Robert has appointed Mr. R. B. Randall the successor of Capt. West. Mr. West has been connected for a number of years with the United States Survey Department, and is a thoroughly competent gentleman.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Thomas Fassimore, who died on Friday evening from injuries received, took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Railroad Hospital. A large number of friends of the deceased were in attendance to pay the last sad rites to the dead. Rev. Dr. Lindsley, by request, officiated at the obsequies and delivered a very impressive sermon on the occasion.

DEMURRER SUSTAINED.—When the case of State vs S. A. Dray, who was charged with the crime of larceny by bailee, came up for trial in the Police Court last Saturday morning, the counsel interposed a demurrer to the complaint. The court sustained the demurrer on the ground that the defendant was not guilty of the crime charged in the complaint. The defendant was accordingly discharged.

UP FOR TRIAL.—The U S. Grand Jury returned two true bills of indictment against Walter S. Kitchen on Saturday, charging him in both instances with having robbed the U. S. mail. The case is set for trial to-day. The Court appointed as counsel for defendant, W. C. Gaston. The prosecution will be conducted by District Attorney Gibbs, assisted by Judge L. O. Stearns.

ALL READY.—The three vessels—Rome, Caribou and Sarah Scott—are all below Astoria ready for sea. The tug Astoria will probably take one or more of these vessels over the bar to day provided the condition of the weather will permit. The ship Victoria Cross has not as yet obtained her crew and will be detained until a sufficient number of seamen can be procured.

LOW WATER.—Boats, which were to have started from Celilo for Wallula this morning, we are informed, will not leave the former point until the middle of the present week. The water in the Upper Columbia is still too low for the attempt to be made without a degree of risk. The river, however, is slowly rising, and will soon be at a proper stage to admit navigation.

BARK TAMAJA.—The English bark Tamaja, Capt. Halladay, in ballast from Valparaiso, arrived from Astoria yesterday morning in tow of the tug Merrimac. She is anchored at present opposite the boneyard. The bark is under charter to carry to Europe a cargo of wheat, and will commence discharging ballast when room can be made for her at the wharf.

PLENTY OF WATER.—Pilots and sailing masters would have no occasion to complain of low water, tides, and sand bars, if the raging Wallamet was always to remain at its present stage. A very large vessel could ascend or descend the river at present without the slightest danger of grounding. There is probably now twenty-eight feet of water over the Swan Island bar.

LONG DELAYED.—Passengers departing on the last steamer for San Francisco, would have reached their destination much sooner by taking the overland route. The steamer Ajax, which sailed from this port last Tuesday morning, was weather bound until Friday morning, when, taking advantage of a temporary lull in the storm, she passed out to sea.

INSPECTION.—Capt. Spotts and Maj. Robert will depart on the Shubrick, next week, from Astoria, for an inspecting cruise on the Northern coast. The object of the visit is to inspect every lighthouse along the coast, and also to inquire particularly into the qualifications of the various keepers, and make such changes as may be deemed necessary.

MRS. DUNIWAY'S LECTURE.—A small but select audience was present at Oro Fino Theater last Saturday evening on the occasion of the lecture delivered by Mrs A. J. Duniway on the "Life and Times of Col E D. Baker." The lecturess recited, at the conclusion, an original poem addressed to the members of Baker Post, G. A. R.

ENTERED THE BASIN.—Notwithstanding the fact that the river at Oregon City is very high and great quantities of drift wood are passing, the boats still enter and depart from the basin. Last Saturday several steamers came down, loaded and entered the basin without the slightest difficulty.

AT CEMENTVILLE.—The brig Perpetua, which came up to Astoria in ballast, is taking on board a cargo of lumber at Cementville for the San Francisco market.

Patent self rolling shades, fine oil painted shades, lace curtains and cornices. Work done reasonably and satisfactory at Paul Richter's.

ARRESTED.—J Whitman was taken into custody on Saturday last by the United States Marshal, for having failed and refused to join the ship Roswell Sprague after having signed articles of shipping. His case will be examined into before the United States Commissioner in a few days.

WILL BE DECIDED.—The case of S A Dray, charged with malfeasance in office, came up in the Police Court on last Saturday morning. After a hearing of the testimony in the case, the Court took the matter under advisement until this morning, when a decision will be rendered.

SUSPENDED.—We are informed by Maj Robert that work has been wholly suspended on the Cape Foulweather lighthouse for the space of six weeks. Operations will not be resumed until the arrival of some indispensable apparatus connected with the lighting department.

RETURNED.—The tug Varuna in tow of the bark Tamaja, was met at St. Helens by the Merrimac. The latter tug took the bark in tow and the Varuna returned to Astoria, to be in readiness to bring any vessels which might appear off the bar into the river, or tow the vessels waiting at Astoria out to sea.

LOADED AND READY.—The bark Northumbria completed her cargo of wheat last Thursday. She is all ready to proceed to her destination, and will go down the river this morning to Astoria, in tow of the Merrimac. She is drawing about 18 feet of water.

BRIG ORIENT.—This vessel is lying at Flanders' wharf discharging her cargo. The brig will probably be ready to proceed down the river to St. Helens to morrow evening. She will receive a cargo of lumber at that point for San Francisco.

STANDING OFF.—A bark and a schooner were seen standing at anchor a long way off the bar as the Oriflamme passed over yesterday morning. Those vessels were evidently bound in, and only waiting for good weather and the tug.

A. Ehman builds neat and substantial cottage houses, hard finished, for $650. Prices for story and a half and two story houses reasonable in proportion. Plans of houses on hand. Inquire at 105 First street, opposite postoffice.

CHANGE OF TIME.—On and after to day trains on the Oregon Central Railroad will leave at 7:15 A. M. for St. Joe, and arrive at the depot at the foot of F street at 5 10 P. M.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Oriflamme arrived from San Francisco last evening, having on board 54 passengers and a large assorted cargo.

AMUSEMENTS

Members of the Turn Verein have been busily engaged the past few days in arranging the Rink for the accommodation of masqueraders and spectators. At the entrance two rooms have been set apart for persons in costume—the one on the left for ladies, the other for gentlemen. These rooms are partitioned off with flags, presenting a pleasing appearance. Maskers will make their entrance to the dancing hall from the rooms, and are not seen until they make their exit from the doors of each dressing apartment. This is a decided improvement over the manner heretofore practiced—that of parading through the large hall to the rear. The music stand is at the Fifth street end of the building, and is in much better position than on previous occasions. Seats will be placed in front of the the music stand and also at the side of the same. Along each side of the hall seating accommodations with be made, affording all spectators an opportunity of witnessing the brilliant scene. The bare walls have been tastefully concealed with large flags. Overhead flags and other devices have been so arranged as to cover up in a great measure the open and rude appearance, forming on the whole a most attractive picture. The committee having the arrangement in charge will spare no pains to make all comfortable. For a night of rare enjoyment we commend all to attend the grand masquerade carnival at the rink this evening. Carriages can be secured at the office of the Oregon Transfer Company at a moderate figure. The 21st Infantry band will arrive this morning and put in an appearance at the rink to night.

THEATRICAL, ETC.

Nellie Cummings continues at the California Theater.

Leo Hudson was at Kansas City, Missouri, 17th ult., and Joe Murphy at Bloomington, Illinois, 22d ult.

Charles Vincent, of Purdy, Scott & Vincent's Minstrels, that was, was in Pueblo, Colorado, on the 18th ult.

Professor Plummer was to have given readings at Oakland, California, on the 3d. He will leave for the Sandwich Islands shortly.

PERSONAL.

Hon Hiram Smith, of Harrisburg, called on us last evening.

B J. Pengra, ex Surveyor General of Oregon, is at the St. Charles.

Col. Dennison, E. F Russell and Mr Blossom, of this city, are "doing" Coos county, we see by our correspondent's letter.

Among the passengers who arrived on the Oriflamme, were W. M. Hilliary, and M. C. Goodell, who have been visiting old time friends in the East.

FROM COOS BAY.—Our Empire City correspondent, writing under date of March 4th, says:

The sale of the M. E. Church that was to have taken place on the 3d of March was postponed until the 1st of May, to give the Trustees time to raise the money to pay the indebtedness of the Church.

Among the strangers in town are Messrs. Blossom, Russell and Col. Dennison, of Portland. The hotel where they are stopping keeps nearly all the Indians on the reservation digging clams and catching fish to supply their appetites, and the crabs have all gone off into deep water to escape being caught.

The Coquille country is fast settling up. There are large tracts of Government land along that river subject to homestead and pre-emption settlement. The land is heavily timbered, yet the market for lumber renders the clearing of such land remunerative, and the land after it is cleared is rich and productive in all kinds of farm productions.

The steamer Eastport arrived on the 1st inst., 58 hours from San Francisco. She will make regular trips between San Francisco and Coos Bay. Cabin passage, twenty dollars; accommodation for about fifty cabin passengers. Length of hull 160 feet, 32 feet beam, 11 feet hold, 181 tons measurement. Will carry about 500 tons coal. We understand it is the intention of the company to build one or two more about the same size the coming summer.

Arrivals and departures for the week ending March 4th, 1873. Arrived—Schooners R H Ramsdel, Elnora, Big River and Loleta, and steamer Eastport. Sailed—Brig Sheet Anchor.

The Burdett Combination Organ, is, in our opinion, the greatest triumph of musical mechanism ever made in this country. That so small a piece of furniture or case should send forth such a volume of tone, completely astonished us, and while we imagined ourselves listening to some great cathedral organ, in another moment the skillful performer had subdued the grand organ to a small voice, seeming to come from the distance, so sweet and soothing that moistened eyes were observed in many of the attentive listeners, and we felt the force of

"He that hath no music in his soul,' etc

The stop is called La Perfectione, and from its nature it is perfection. After hearing all the variety we supposed in any organ, we were surprised by another new and very beautiful stop never before introduced in any organ, viz the "Campanella," which resembles small bells in the distance, liquid and very beautiful, and then another, the "Violoncello," a solo stop, almost a perfect imitation of the 'cello for which it was named. Then the "Vox Humana," a most beautiful stop, the tone representing the "shake" in the human voice, and when used in connection with the "Harmonic Celeste" is, without exception, the most perfect combination in a reed instrument that musical ear ever listened to.—Burlington (Iowa) Hawk Eye.

The Advertiser's Gazette, a book of over 100 pages, sent by mail to any address for 25 cents. Published by Geo P Rowell & Co, Advertising Agents, No 41 Park Row New York. The Washington (D. C.) Standard says "It puts the advertiser on the track of saving money by judicious outlay, and gives information and advice that the oldest and most experienced, as well as new beginners, may find profit in perusing."

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Grand masquerade.

Meet to night—East Portland Council.

Encouraging signs of the rain letting up.

Four sailing vessels are still weather bound at Astoria.

Eighty four sacks of mail matter arrived per Oriflamme.

The home circuit—walking about with baby in the night.

The Oriflamme crossed the bar yesterday morning at five o'clock.

Only three drunks arrested by the police up to 10 o'clock last evening.

Nothing was seen of the Ajax as the Oriflamme came up on the last trip.

"Modoc punches" are the latest thing among the barkeeping fraternity.

Circulars of the Louisville Lottery (No. 3, this is) are arriving at the Postoffice.

Bedlam personified—the wharf after night, on the arrival of the ocean steamer.

"Twelve feet of snow on a level" is the encouraging report from Minnesota.

The British bark Skiddaw arrived at San Francisco on the 5th inst from Callao.

"Hurry up with that small boat" is heard nightly at the foot of Stark street.

Four hundred and seventy tons of assorted cargo were brought up on the last steamer.

There is a vessel lying at San Francisco bearing the name of our townsman, S. G. Reed.

It is to be hoped it will not rain to night, and as a result a large attendance at the Rink can be depended upon.

The Oregonian will so far complete her load of flour for San Francisco, as to be ready to proceed to Astoria about Wednesday.

Four thousand baskets of oysters was the cargo of the Carolita, which arrived at San Francisco on the 5th, consigned to Doane & Co.

The Postoffice folks distributed most of the big mail for the Portland office last night, besides distributing a quantity of papers for outside offices.

A Western journal offers this inducement: "All subscribers paying in advance will be entitled to a first-class obituary notice in case of death."

Col Baldwin, on Saturday, was in receipt of the painful intelligence of the loss of his three sisters, who have died since last June at their home in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

An Idaho paper says that "the coal oil in the street lamps in Portland froze solid a few nights ago." That's a mistake, even whisky doesn't congeal here, except when heavily diluted.

Some person has been engaged to write up the leading characteristics of the editors of the Herald. That paper yesterday morning contained an elaborate article on the traits of "The Mule."

"Halsey boys," writing from that place under date of the 7th, say the engineers give them a dose of hot water as the train passes, and they return the compliment by throwing stones. The boys must have a hearing.

The schooner Marietta sailed from San Francisco on the 6th, and is due here this week. This is the third of the vessels belonging to C. D. Morrison & Co.'s Star Line. None arrived yet. The H. L. Tiernan is over due.

Money is said to be "close," but we can't see it—"thou art so 'close' and yet so far." We know some capitalists, however, who are so "close" that a barrel full of carthartic wouldn't move them to lend a poor devil a V.

Will. Saunders and Thos. Morris, practical tinners, have made an improvement in one of the machines in the shop of Goldsmith & Lowenberg, which enables them to save much time in the work done on that particular machine. It is a good device and saves labor.

An insane paragraphist wants somebody to invent a "perfect match, "lighting readily, safe, without noise or smell, hard to blow out, unaffected by dampness, and requiring no apparatus to ignite it." The man who could imagine such a thing, might commit murder without any danger of conviction.

The stunning young "walking gentleman" of the up-street cotemporary, of cane, lavender, and alabaster shirt front propensities, about whose apparel continually lingers the delicate odors of musk and jockey club, is very kind in his advice as to how the OREGONIAN should be run. Young Dundreary has much painful leisure on his hands, and can afford to be generous. His efforts to instruct deserve a pasteboard crown.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

SATURDAY, March 8, 1873.

The grand jury came into court and presented true bills of indictments as follows:

United States vs Walter S. Kitchen, first indictment, robbing the United States mail.

Same vs same, second indictment, same charge; ordered that Walter S. Kitchen be brought into court at 1 o'clock this afternoon for arraignment and that George S. Durner and Sha-mux be brought in Monday next for arraignment at 10 o'clock A. M., and that Fernando Jublitz do appear on Monday, the 10th inst., for the same purpose.

United States vs Walter S Kitchen, first indictment, defendant arraigned, pleaded not guilty and W. C. Gaston appointed to defend.

Same vs same, second indictment, arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and W. C. Gaston appointed to defend.

W. C Gaston admitted to the bar on motion of A. C. Gibbs.

Grand jury discharged for the term.

Court adjourned until Monday, March 10th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J

E J Taylor vs William Turnbull, judgment on verdict for $50 and $77 50 costs.

Charles Hegele vs DeWitt C. Jones and James B Stevens; setting aside satisfaction of judgment and creating lien against defendant Jones in favor of the defendant, James B Stevens.

David G. Frazer vs J. S Sprenger et al; demurrer to complaint overruled, and defendant allowed until Tuesday to plead.

Abraham Ford vs School District No. 1; judgment on verdict.

Milton Benset vs S. M. Reeder; motion to dismiss appeal overruled.

J. McDonald vs H Doherty; cause dismissed on plaintiff's costs.

State of Oregon vs John Tierney, Francis Jones and Hugh McLaughlin; indicted for gross fraud under the common law, demurrer to the indictment; taken under advisement.

Court adjourned until Monday morning at nine o'clock.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, J

In Probate—In the matter of the estate of Jos. Lovy, deceased; M. Sellers, administrator, order appointing J. A. Waters guardian, ad litem, of minor heirs of said deceased.

In the matter of the estate of Joseph Lovy, deceased; order for sale of real-estate.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

In the matter of the petition of John A. Carr, L Besser and William Burch, for a stay of execution issued against them from the Circuit Court in the case of the State of Oregon vs J A. Carr, L Besser and William Burch. Now at this time, this case coming on to be tried, on motion of the District Attorney to rescind the order of this court heretofore made staying further proceedings, the matter is taken under advisement until the next term of this court.

Several claims against the county audited and allowed.

Adjourned until Monday, March 10th, at one o'clock P. M.

POLICE COURT—DENNY, J.

State vs Ah Sing; larceny, discharged.

State vs Ah Sing and Ah Cue, assault; fined $20 each, committed to jail in default.

State vs Chinaman, larceny of a sack of rice, fined $25, committed to jail 30 days in default.

State vs John Wall, assault and battery; discharged.

State vs Joe Perry, assault and battery, fined $5 and costs

City vs G. Besley, drunk and disorderly, fined $10, and committed in default.

CARD OF THANKS

The members of Baker Post No. 1, G A. R., take this method of returning their sincere thanks to those who so kindly volunteered to assist them in their late concert and ball. Mrs Northrup and Gilbert and Messrs Wyatt, Lancaster, Schuyler, Hubner, Hatch, DePrans and Brenner, have our special thanks. We are also under many obligations to the 21st Infantry Band for their gratuitous services rendered on that occasion. And last, but not least, the press of this city rendered all the assistance in their power, for which we shall ever hold them in grateful remembrance. By order of the Post.

VAN B DeLASHMUTT,
Committee.

A TRUE BALSAM.—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is truly a balsam. It contains the balsamic principle of the Wild Cherry and the balsamic properties of the tar and pine. Its ingredients are all balsamic. Coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis and consumption speedily disappear under its balsamic influence.

THE TERRITORIES.

Several citizens of Clarke county, W. T., have gone to Yakima to engage in stock raising.

A "nucleus for a Young Men's Christian Association" has been formed at Vancouver, according to the Home.

It is rumored that Col. S. A. Merritt, late Delegate to Congress from Idaho, will be appointed to the Chief Justiceship of Utah.

Gen. Milroy, of the Black River Indian Reservation, W. T., accidentally let an axe fall on his foot the other day, inflicting quite an ugly wound.

The last number of the Owyhee Avalanche says the miners' strike in the Elmore, South Chariot and Red Jacket mines will probably be amicably settled.

A Missionary Convention will be held in St Luke's Church, in Vancouver, on the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of this month. Bishop Morris and several other clergy will be present.

Several gentlemen from Montana have been, during the past winter, buying up sheep at Walla Walla for the Montana market, and now have quite large bands ready to start as soon as roads over the Coeur d'Alene mountains will permit.

There is six feet of snow at the Government meadows, on the Blue mountains, about eighteen miles from Walla Walla. The snow is deeper now at these meadows than at any other time during the past six years. This insures plenty of water for the creeks, abundant moisture in the valley, and therefore large crops this year.

The Vancouver Register says: "Wheat is looking well throughout the county, and promises a good harvest. The winter has been so mild that both grass and grain have continued to grow with scarcely any check. Cattle that have not been fed hay are looking unusually well, and feed is plenty. Fruit trees promise well and unless we have late frosts, which are not common here, we anticipate an abundance of fruit.

The Real Estate Gazette says: "A large amount of bacon has been made in Walla Walla during the past year. The order of things, especially in this commodity, has been reversed, as heretofore the bacon that has been consumed here has been shipped from below, but last year more was made here than will suffice for home consumption, with a large surplus for shipment. Several of our heavy farmers have on hand some 2,000 pounds each."

The Olympia Courier of the 6th says: "Telegraphic word came from Port Townsend last night that the steamer Blakely was lying in the harbor of Port Discovery in a disabled condition. She left Port Townsend when a fearful storm was raging and the result was as above stated. This is a solution of the question why the down Sound mails failed to arrive yesterday. No particulars have reached us as to the extent of the damage she has sustained.

Dead Oregon Bills.

The following bills, introduced by Senators Corbett and Kelly, failed of enactment at the adjournment of Congress:

For annexing Walla Walla county to Oregon.

For payment of the Oregon Indian war claims.

Increasing the salary of the District Judge of Oregon.

Donating to Oregon Mint the lot and building at The Dalles.

Bills relating to swamp and agricultural college lands in Oregon.

The following bills, which were of interest to this coast, also failed:

For subsidizing the Australian steamship service.

Providing for the segregation and sale of various classes of public lands.

Defining the rights of settlers on public lands.

To expedite a survey of private land claims.

Defining swamp lands.

To encourage telegraphic communication with Asia.

Kendall's bills to encourage boring artesian wells.

To prohibit discrimination in railroad charges.

Providing a general law for the incorporation of railroads in Territories.

Substitutes in the Dental Ranks are not desirable; therefore, keep the natural teeth sound and pure with that wholesome vegetable elixir SOZODONT. Do this, and they will last as long as the breath lasts, and the breath itself will never be tainted 25

The Shield of Health.
Debility opens the door to disease. Nor is this all. When the door has been opened and the terrible intruder has entered, physical prostration renders its progress to the citadel of life comparatively easy. Therefore, bar the door, and if possible keep it barred; or if the enemy has already secured a foothold, rally the strength of the system and assist nature to drive out the foe of health and life. The means of doing this is within every one's reach. Brace up the physique with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, when there are elements in the air you breathe, or the water you drink, that are morbid and unwholesome. This is barring the door. Epidemic and endemic will assail in vain the living fortress that is thus protected. It may "laugh a siege to scorn." But if the precautionary measure has been neglected, the seeds of disease can be ejected by the same potent vegetable agent that would, if taken earlier, have prevented their taking an entrance into the system. The stimulating, invigorating, regulating and purifying properties of this vital elixir render it a most formidable antagonist of all debilitating disorders. The rapidity and certainty with which it vanquishes fever and ague, rheumatism, bilious colic, indigestion and nervous complaints, is due in no small degree to the strength it imparts to the muscular fibre, the nerves and the membranes which line the stomach and the bowels. It may be safely said that a course of the Bitters commenced now will be a sure protection against most of the complaints incident to the season.

PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.—1860—X.
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Beautiful Woman.
HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM gives to the Complexion the Freshness of Youth.
HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM overcomes the flushed appearance caused by heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes the lady of forty appear but twenty, and so natural and perfect that no person can detect its application. By its use the roughest skin is made to rival the pure radiant texture of youthful beauty. It removes redness, blotches and pimples. It contains nothing that will injure the skin in the least.
MAGNOLIA BALM is used by all fashionable ladies in New York, London and Paris. It costs only 75 cents per Bottle, and is sold by all Druggists and Perfumers.

A Railroad Watch.
TRAVELERS BY RAILROAD FREQUENTLY FIND their Watches completely demoralized by the continuous jar of the train. To overcome this difficulty has long been a problem with watchmakers, and it is now successfully accomplished in the new grade made by the
AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY OF WALTHAM.
This Watch is made in the most substantial manner, on the most approved principles, and combines all the recent improvements. It has a new micrometrical regulator, by which the slightest variation can be easily corrected. It is carefully adjusted, and may be entirely relied on to run accurately, wear well, and
ENDURE THE HARDEST USAGE,
without any derangement whatever. We confidently recommend this Watch to the trade and the public, as the Best Watch for the Price in the Market.
The Superintendent of one of the Nevada Mines writes that
"YOUR (WALTHAM) WATCHES ARE THE ONLY ONES THAT WILL STAND THE SHOCK OF BLASTING. WE HAVE IN THIS MINE BOTH FOREIGN AND DIFFERENT KINDS OF AMERICAN WATCHES, BUT THE WALTHAM WATCH IS THE ONLY ON ADAPTED TO OUR PURPOSE."

Thoughts of Home

BY MRS. E. H. TAYLOR

Sister, when the evening shadows
  Lie upon the hills
And the hush of early twilight
  Listens to the rills
Do the dear ones often gather
  In the parlor old
Where we played in early childhood,
  Ere our hearts grew cold
By the cares and griefs [illegible]
  That beset life's way
Tossing us upon its billows—
  Do you remember, say
How the evening lamps were lighted,
  And the songs we sang?
How with mirth and dance delighted
  There the echoes rang
From the lips that knew no sorrow,
  And the heart no guile
Oh sister, how I long to-night
  To be again a child
Say, do you miss me, sister,
  When the evening shadows come,
Are you longing for my presence
  To fill the dear old home?

A Model Book of Travels

AN ARTIST "DOES" EUROPE, ASIA AND AFRICA IN HALF A COLUMN

John R. Johnston, the artist, who has recently returned from a trip across the water, was not remarkably impressed with the antiquities of the Old World. In fact, he is inclined to believe that there is a great deal of humbug about them. We let him sum up Europe, Asia, Africa, etc., in his own words:

Went to Alexandria—crossed a portion of the Great Desert on a camel's back—easier for a rich man to go thro' the eye of a needle than for a camel to paint portraits—desert no great shakes—got a better dessert at an American hotel dinner. Went to Damascus—bought a Damascus blade—humbug—blade made in Akron, Ohio. Went to Jerusalem—hired a guide for his board—a regular guide board—never was so much bored in my life—Jerusalem full of second-hand clothing stores—bought a fragment of Solomon's Temple—enough fragments of Solomon's Temple sold every year to build Cincinnati. Visited the Nile—humbug—no water privileges worth a dam—don't wonder no one knows sources of the Nile—greatest wonder that anybody cares where they are—Licking river beats the Nile. Saw the mummies—made in London, every one of them, by a Massachusetts Yankee and sent to Egypt. Looked at the Pyramids. Recollected that Napoleon said to his soldiers—"From the tops of yonder pyramids forty centuries are looking down upon you." No such thing, went up there and inquired, forty centuries hadn't been there at all.

Saw the sphinx—capital likeness of Ben Butler. Went to Italy—bought a monkey and hand organ, and learned to speak Italian in two hours, monkey died and hand organ exploded—havn't been able to speak Italian since. Saw Garibaldi at Naples. He wept bitterly upon my shoulders—borrowed half a dollar, and said he wanted to come to America and be a second old George Washington. He is coming to Cincinnati next summer to open a larger beer saloon, as a headquarters for distinguished organgrinders. I bought a place in Vienna and I am to pay for it in Confederate scrip. Crossed over the Bridge of Sighs—no size at all—saw where the Dodge of Venice married the Adriatic. There was a Mormon there awhile ago. He had not only married the Adriatic, but all the streams in the neighborhood. Saw where Conova's heart was buried. When Conova died his body was cut up and sent all over Europe. All big cities wanted a piece of him. They do different now. If an artist gets a reputation—like myself, for instance—they cut him up in the newspapers. Saw the ruins of Greece—(depreciated oil stock, mostly.)

Saw the old masters—villainous old daubs. One of these old masters couldn't get a situation at house painting if he were alive to-day. Went to Rome; dined by Buchanan Reid and Randolph Rogers. Inquired for Julius Cæsar, but he wasn't in that day—gone to a turkey shoot on the Isle of Crete—don't go much on the ile. Saw Herculaneum—all a humbug—the ashes that buried it didn't come from Vesuvius—drawn on in carts. All a speculation to sell relics. Saw the Hellespont—waded across it. Leander drowned himself a purpose, just to make a Hero of himself. Went and looked at the Rhine—muddy little dike—castles all look like stone smoke houses—went across it—rather go "across the canal." Saw eruption on Mount Vesuvius—country fireworks on the Fourth of July beats it any time. Tell you Europe is a humbug. Nothing in it.

Canadian Pacific Railway.

The text of the charter of this Company has just been published. It will be seen that the Government concessions are extremely liberal. An epitome of the charter is annexed:

The Company have a period of nearly a year allowed for making the financial arrangements, the charter to be null and void unless those arrangements are completed to the satisfaction of the Government by the 1st of January, 1871. The charter provides that the railway be divided into sections, as follows: The eastern section, extending from the eastern terminus to Red River; the Lake Superior section, extending from some point on the eastern section to Lake Superior; the central sections, extending from Red River to a point in the longitude of Fort Edmiction; the Manitoba section, extending from the main line in the Province of Manitoba to the boundary of the United States; and the western section, extending from a point in the longitude of Fort Edminton to the Pacific Coast.

The Company shall, within two years from the 20th day of July, in the year 1871, begin simultaneously the construction of the railroad from the Pacific Ocean toward the Rocky Mountains, and from a point in the Province of Ontario, hereafter to be determined by the Government toward the Pacific Ocean, to connect the seaboard of British Columbia with the railway system of Canada; and, further, shall construct the Manitoba section by the 31st of December, 1874; the Lake Superior section, and such portion of the main line as shall be required, to complete communication between Lake Superior and Red River, by the 31st of December, 1876, shall proceed with and construct the eastern and western sections simultaneously, shall prosecute the work of constructing the railway with all due diligence, and shall complete the whole railway within ten years from the said 20th day of July, 1871, unless the last mentioned period be extended by Parliament, in whose care the Company shall complete the whole railway within such extended period.

The Company is also empowered to make arrangements with any railway company in Canada or the United States for connecting the sections of the Canadian Pacific and to secure running powers over such railways. The maximum amount of both land and money subsidy, namely 30,000,000 acres of land and $30,000,000 in money, are guaranteed to the Company. It is reported that Sir Hugh Allan, Mayor Walker, the Hon. A. G. Archibald, and the Hon. J. J. C. Abbott will proceed to England about the end of the current month to make the financial arrangements in connection with this great work.

In speaking of the designs submitted for the Greeley statue, the New York Tribune says:

Of course there is no danger that Mr. Greeley will be represented in a Roman toga, or that the Committee will content itself with any other outworn design, but the Printers' Statue of a Great Printer should, in its form as well as its material, suggest the profession of its subject. Various ideas of what the statue should be have been suggested, and among others that of representing Mr. Greeley "as a journeyman printer working at the case." There is novelty in the plan, and should it be adopted, we shall not at least have another statue of a great man appearing as if he never did anything, and was incapable of doing anything except standing still and gazing into infinite space.

A Virginia editor has come to the conclusion that a man might as well undertake to hold himself at arm's length and then turn a double somersault over a church steeple, as to attempt to publish a paper that will suit everybody.

THE VICE PRESIDENCY.

VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX'S RETIRING SPEECH.

WASHINGTON, March 4th.

The following are the remarks of Colfax declaring the Senate adjourned: Senators—The time fixed by the Constitution for the dissolution of the Forty second Congress has arrived, and with a few parting words I shall resign this gavel to an honored son of Massachusetts, who has been chosen by the people as my successor. Administrations terminate and Congresses expire as years pass by, but the nation lives and grows and prospers, to be served in the future by those equally proud of its growing influence among the nations of the earth.

To be called by the representatives of the people and afterwards by the people themselves to this responsible duty of presiding successively over two houses of Congress for the past ten years, from the era of war through the era of reconstruction to the era of peace, more than fills the measure of an honorable ambition. Looking back over these ten exciting years, I can claim not only that I have committed no act which has proved the confidence misplaced that called me to this position, but also that I have striven in its official duties to administer the parliamentary law with the same impartiality with which an upright judge upon the bench decides in the questions of life and liberty. To faithfully protect the rights of the minority as well as to uphold the rights of the majority in the advancement of public business, to remain calm and unmoved amid the excitements of debate, to temper and restrain asperities and guard against personal antagonisms, and to perform acceptably the complex, and often, perplexing duties of the chair without partisan bias, has been my constant endeavor. It is gratifying, therefore, that of the many hundreds of decisions made by me, often on the instant, none has been reversed, and scarcely any seriously questioned. How much I owe to the uniform kindness and support of members over whom I have presided, it is difficult to express in words. It has been bounded by no party lines; controlled by no political affiliations, and I rejoice that I have been able to attest my appreciation of this support while resolutely defending principles before the people. This defence has never been coupled with personal assaults on any public man with whom I have differed. No aspersions on their character have dishonored my tongue. No epithets or invectives have fallen from my lips, but the clock admonishes me that the Forty second Congress has already passed into history, and wishing you, Senators, useful lives for your country, happy lives for yourselves, thanking you for the resolution spread upon your minutes, and invoking the favor of Him who holds the destinies of nations and men in the hollow of His hand, I am ready to administer the oath of office to the Vice President elect, whom I now introduce to you.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON

Vice President Wilson, standing at the Secretary's desk, then addressed the Senate as follows:

SENATORS—In assuming the position assigned me by the voice of the nation, I am not, I trust, unmindful of the obligations it imposes. A service here somewhat prolonged, covering a period crowded with great events, and an association here with nearly 220 Senators, many of them statesmen of large and varied experience, have impressed upon me exalted ideas of the responsibility resting upon the occupant of this chair. Under the rules of the Senate parliamentary law, I have held for more than eighteen years to this chair. I trust I comprehend something of its just requirements, and something too of the tone and temper of the Senate. In presiding over your deliberations, I shall ever strive to be free from personal prejudice and partisan bias. A sense of public duty and the obligations of personal friendship alike require that I shall be considerate, and as just and impartial as the lot of humanity permits. To the justice, generosity, and friendly regard of the Senators, I trust I may fully appeal for that counsel and encouragement, that forbearance and indulgence which I am sure I shall often require as your presiding officer.

An amateur journalist of Indianapolis has made a fortune by his pen. His father-in-law died of grief after reading one of his leaders, and left him $130,000.

The calendar week closes as it began, dull in financial and trade circles. The severity of the rain storm which has prevailed is not often equaled, even in the wet winters of Oregon, and its effect has been to place some check, at least, on business activity. The condition of our money market is still the object of earnest solicitude, though hopes of a recovery are growing stronger daily. The usual rates prevail at the banks, though accommodations on the street are more easily obtainable. The call for funds to purchase grain in the interior is weak, and, consequently, some of the surplus coin is seeking other channels, by which it finds its way more rapidly into general circulation. The general business public seems to have lost none of its confidence in the promise of easier finances and more active trade with the advent of spring. Our merchants are generally prepared, or will be in due time, with full stocks, many of them of direct importation from the East and Europe, and we believe that the year 1873 bids fair to rank as one of the prosperous years for the legitimate business of Portland, notwithstanding the croakers' complaint that "the dull times are not likely to let up for months to come."

Oregon Hops.

We mentioned some days ago the feasibility of making an article of export which would prove quite remunerative to the farmers of Oregon, of the above named commodity. Since, we observe in the Farmer of Salem, some facts furnished by Mr. Wells, of Polk county, who has experimented somewhat on this crop in our State. It appears that the increase in the acreage sown in 1872 was about 200 per cent., and from this there were gathered probably 60,000 pounds, which at 40 cents a pound would show a revenue of $32,000. As 2,000 pounds per acre is about an average yield here, it would seem there were only about 40 acres in cultivation, and these were chiefly in Marion, Polk, Lane, and Linn counties.

One great advantage in raising hops in this country, over the Eastern States, is that here, while the yield is almost double that of the East per acre, there is comparatively little trouble in taking care of the hop roots through the winter, not having to be covered up with manure to prevent their being frozen out. From Emmet Wells' Circular, New York, February 13th, we learn that from 40,000 to 50,000 bales will have to be imported this year to meet the American demand, and while the price of hops from all other sections range from 35 to 62 cents, Pacific coast Hops are quoted 62½ to 67½. A bale contains 200 pounds.

We gathered many other facts relating to the Hop growing interest, but want of space forbids our giving them at this time.

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—The market continues without special animation. Most of that required to load the vessels in port being already secured and no other vessels being due, exporters are not anxious to buy, nor are producers at all forward in offers. The San Francisco market exhibits a better tone, and ours is firmer at $1 60 ₩ cental.

FLOUR—The schooner Oregonian will take a full cargo to San Francisco, and shipments by other means are likely to continue fair. A considerable quantity will offer for export by the next steamer. Quotations are given at $4 ₩ bbl for superfine; $4 50@5 00 for country brands, and $5 50 for standard brands, extra.

OATS—The greater portion of last year's crop has been marketed and by some it is thought that the supply from the interior will shortly diminish. Prices are firmer at 40@42 cents ₩ bushel, sacked and delivered here, for best lots.

HAY—We note no change, quotations nominally given at $15@16 ₩ ton for timothy, and $8@10 for wild. Trade dull.

FEED—A moderate demand for the supply on hand exists, but prices remain without change, at $15@18 ₩ ton for bran, $27@29 for shorts, and $30@32 for chops, etc.

BARLEY—No transactions are remarked. Prices remain firm at $1 40a1 50 ₩ 100 lbs, as to quality and wants of buyer.

APPLES—Supplies of common are still adequate, but for choice lots neatly packed for purposes of shipment, there is rather more inquiry. The former sell from wagons at 50@75 cents ₩ box; the latter command 87½c @$1, boxes included.

POTATOES—The most inquiry is for choice lots of upland, which are quotable at 40@45 cents ₩ bushel, inferior lots, 33@37½. The demand is fair, but the supply is likewise good.

ONIONS—There is no change in our market of consequence, prices being nominally given at our former figures, but an advance could probably be obtained for choice lots, as some dealers are rather short. We deem 2½a2¾ ₩ lb a fair quotation of our market to day.

BUTTER—The market is almost bare of choice lots, and for such, prices are firm at a high figure, but common is abundant at quotations ranging all the way from 18a30 cents ₩ lb. California roll is still in market.

EGGS—A little better feeling seems to exist and the demand is rather more active, though dealers still pay only 20 cents ₩ dozen.

BACON—The receipts for the past week have hardly been up to the average of previous weeks this year. The stocks on hand are, however, quite large, as it has been difficult to place any considerable lots at an advantage of late. We see no reason to change our last quotations.

LARD—The market is firmer for fresh in tins, but trade generally is dull and prices unchanged.

HIDES—Quotations are renewed at 6a7c ₩ lb for green, 14c for salted, and 15a16c for dry.

Shipping Intelligence.

The S. S. Oriflamme will sail hence for San Francisco on Wednesday.

The bark Northumbria will probably go down the river Monday.

The Penang is receiving a cargo of wheat for Liverpool at Flanders' wharf.

The Gemini is discharging ballast preparatory to loading wheat for the United Kingdom.

The schooner Oregonian is receiving a cargo of flour for San Francisco at her berth in this city.

The brig Orient from San Francisco is discharging cargo at Flanders wharf.

The British bark Tamaja is lying in the river at the bone yard.

The bark Electra, which cleared hence for Cork on the 5th of October with 17,694 centals of wheat arrived at Falmouth on the 18th of February, having made the run in about 118 days.

DR. C. G. GLASS.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days. Imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, fœted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4pt
